PROJECTS

Food Ordering Website

Developed a full-stack food ordering web application using PHP, MySQL, HTML, CSS, Bootstrap, and XAMPP. The system enables users to browse menus, place orders, and manage accounts, while providing an admin panel for managing food items, categories, and customer orders.

AI Text-to-Image Generator

Developed an AI-powered text-to-image generator using Python that converts user-provided text prompts into images using an API . The project strengthened my understanding of Python, AI model integration, and image generation techniques.

CERTIFICATION
